Bib collection

Each race bib is handed directly to the runner upon presentation of their race bib collection card sent by email on June 21, an ID and their race bag containing all the mandatory equipment.

No exchange of bib numbers with a third party is accepted; any person transferring their bib number will be immediately cancelled without any possible refund.

No race bibs will be distributed on the morning of the 90km race. For the 23km race, a special time slot on the morning of the races is offered to runners living within a 2-hour radius of Chamonix (by appointment).

For the Mini-Cross, bibs can be collected without an appointment on Thursday 25 and Friday 26 June from 9:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. or on Saturday 27 June from 9:00 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the stand of the association "Vaincre les maladies Lysosomales", located near EMC2 on the Trail Camp.

Appointments must be booked in your runner account before June 19th at 5:00 PM.

Information

Competitors are asked to check their personal information in their runner profile (gender, date of birth, surname, first name, mobile phone number). No claims will be accepted after the start.

Please note that there will be no bag drop at bib collection; you will not be able to leave any bags. If you leave personal belongings behind, the organizers cannot be held responsible for any loss or theft.

How do I make an appointment?

You can book your race bib collection appointment directly in your runner account!

Find the link to access it in your registration confirmation email or scan the QR Code.

Steps:

- Enter your email address and booking code
- If you do not know your booking code, enter your email address, then click on "I don't know my booking code".
- You will receive by email the link that allows you to access your runner area.

Access to ski lifts

Benefit from a 50% discount on the purchase of your MONT BLANC Multipass sightseeing package (2 or 3 non-consecutive or consecutive days to be used within a calendar period of 7 days) which will allow you to access refreshment stations or arrivals located at altitude.

Before the Race

Individual Accident Insurance

Each competitor must have individual accident insurance covering search and rescue costs in France and Switzerland. Such insurance can be purchased from Assur-connect by following this link: I am purchasing individual accident insurance.

Helicopter evacuations in Switzerland are subject to a fee, as are helicopter evacuations in France by private helicopter. The choice of evacuation method rests solely with the organizers, who will always prioritize the safety of the runners.

WARNING

For adults, if you have not submitted your "Health Prevention Pathway" ("PPS") to the organizers, you will not be able to collect your bib. No PPS will be accepted on site.

Transport in the Chamonix valley

To make your arrival at the Mont-Blanc Marathon easier, but also to minimize the environmental footprint of the event, we ask you to use public transport in the Valley or to carpool when possible.

Public transport in the Chamonix valley:

Train = free with a guest card or a via cham card.

Buses are free with a ski lift pass or a Via Cham card. The guest card offers discounted bus fares.

During the race

Refreshments during races

Food

Soup, bread, tomme cheese, sausage, sweet cakes, Tucs, oranges, bananas, apricots, peaches, watermelon (if very hot), MX3 energy bars (90km, 42km).

Beverage

Still water, sparkling water with MX3 electrolytes, sparkling water with mint syrup and Coca-Cola, tea (if bad weather), MX3 energy drink.

Local supplier-partners:

- Sausages from the cured meats of Mont-Blanc
- Tomes from the farms of Montrac and Vallorcine
- Fruits de Maulet Primeur
- Bread and cakes from the Richard bakery

Finish line refreshments

Food

Hot dogs diots (vegetarian option available), sweet cakes, oranges, apricots, peaches, watermelon (if very hot).

Beverage

Still water, sparkling water with mint syrup and Coca-Cola, tea (if bad weather).

No cups, bowls or cutlery at the refreshment stations!

In accordance with our environmental commitments, we do not provide any cups, bowls, or cutlery at race aid stations. Each runner must bring their own equipment throughout the race.

In addition, for the 90km only

Food

- Rösti at the Emosson refreshment station from 11:30 am to 2:30 pm,
- Pizzas at the Bois refreshment stand from 6pm to 10pm.
- Pasta at the Montenvers refreshment station from 7pm to 9pm.

Race rules

You can consult the Mont-Blanc Marathon regulations on the event's official website: WEBSITE LINK, or by clicking on the following link: RULES LINK. As a reminder, when you registered, you indicated that you had read and accepted the regulations.

Respect the environment and its inhabitants

The Mont-Blanc Marathon race routes cross a unique and fragile environment. To respect the site, please do not litter and stay on the marked trails. Runners who do not comply with this recommendation will be penalized.

We ask you not to walk in the fields located at the edge of the paths, they are used by farmers to make hay to feed their animals in the winter and the successive trampling prevents the regrowth of the aftermath.

Please do not litter and pay attention to waste sorting!

Some important information:

- We have eliminated all plastic bottles of still water, sparkling water, and Coca-Cola. We use tanks for still water when there is no tap water available, and we make our own sparkling water. This is used either with MX3 electrolytes, mint or Coca-Cola syrup.
- All organic waste produced at the aid stations is collected by the Ecotrivelo association and composted in Chamonix.
- The boxes containing the fruit offered at the refreshment points are returned to the greengrocer to be reused.
- The remaining waste is sorted and recycled where possible.
- The organization does not take responsibility for the waste of accompanying persons (picnics, bottles, etc.). Accompanying persons are responsible for managing and disposing of their own waste.

In case of withdrawal

The competitor must inform a member of the organization (marshal, volunteer, first aider, etc.), and clearly state their bib number, so that the organization does not unnecessarily search for runners who have withdrawn.

In case of withdrawal, the runner's bib number will be given to Race Control, the bottom right corner of the bib will be cut off by the coordinator, and the runner will be asked to take public transport back to Chamonix. Remember to bring a small amount of money to pay for public transport.

For the Duo Etoilé, if one of the two participants drops out, the other must also drop out.

If no member of the organization is near you when you withdraw, please send your bib number followed by the word ABANDON and your location to the race control center by SMS: telephone number indicated on your bib: +33 (0)6 10 55 12 11.

Assistance

Assistance is only permitted 100m before and 100m after the supply tent. Accompanying persons are prohibited within the refueling area (except for accredited persons). Any assistance provided outside of these areas will be penalized.

Race officials and volunteer coordinators are authorized to enforce the regulations and to immediately apply a penalty in case of non-compliance with these zones.

Security

To enhance runner safety during the Mont-Blanc Marathon, the timing system in place identifies runners experiencing abnormal delays during the race and can trigger an alert. In such cases, race control may call you on your mobile phone.

Remember to leave your mobile phone switched on with the ringer activated throughout the race and to check on your registration profile that your mobile phone number is correct. Runners in the 90km race must also have a phone plan that includes Switzerland (passing through Emosson).

In case of an accident

Dial one of the emergency numbers: +33 (0)9 79 98 18 22 or +33 (0)6 10 55 12 11 or 112 or go to one of the first aid stations.

After the race

Ski lifts

For the cable car descent at the end of the 23km Mont-Blanc or the Vertical Kilometer, The bib number serves as proof of race number (it is imperative to present your bib number).

Medals

The medals given to all finishers at the end of the races are made of wood. They are produced by a Chamonix-based company using wood from Haute-Savoie, sourced from local artisans.

The showers

Showers are available at the Richard Bozon Sports Centre. You can access them upon presentation of your race bib.

The opening hours are as follows:

- Friday, June 26 : 7:00 PM to 5:00 AM,
- Saturday, June 27 : 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 a.m.
- Sunday, June 28 : 10:00 AM to 7:00 PM

A French beer brewed in the heart of the Alps

Since 1830, the Brasserie du Mont Blanc has perpetuated the quintessential French beer by offering beers that combine tradition and innovation.

Proud of our Alpine roots, the "Made in the Alps" signature is a promise of authentic beers made with the best ingredients.

At each stage of production, our master brewers put their know-how and passion into practice to guarantee a unique taste experience in the service of quality.

The chips on the race bibs

The chip attached to your bag and the one on the back of your race bib are recyclable. You will find c at the end of your race to deposit them. Our service provider will then take care of recycling them. Please remember!

Spa area - Tiger Balm

A treatment area will be set up at the Richard Bozon Sports Centre, where physiotherapists and podiatrists will be present throughout the event weekend. The treatment teams will use, among other things, products from Tiger Balm, an official partner of the Mont-Blanc Marathon.

You will be able to access it both before and after your race upon presentation of your race number.

The opening hours are as follows:

- Saturday, June 27: 9:00 AM - 6:30 PM
- Sunday, June 28: 10:00 AM - 7:00 PM

Care area - NHCO

As a partner of the Mont-Blanc Marathon, NHCO Nutrition puts its micronutrition expertise at the service of athletes. A specialist in amino acids, the French brand works at the heart of the body's mechanisms to provide targeted support during exercise.

His approach aims to support the athlete's health at every stage:

Aiguilles Rouges Nature Reserve

Nature reserves are a tool for protecting natural environments. They protect spaces, species, and geological and/or biological heritage.

Three organized races cross the Aiguilles Rouges Nature Reserve: the 90km, 42km, and 23km of Mont Blanc. This exceptional site provides a privileged vantage point, facing the glaciers and peaks of the Mont Blanc massif.

BEST PRACTICES TO ADOPT

- Stay on the paths
- Do not cut corners, either uphill or downhill (this promotes erosion).
- Respect the race markings and the permanent markings
- Do not use a drone
- It is preferable to practice during the day; at night the disturbance is greater.
- Get into the habit of putting your rubbish in a pocket from which it cannot escape.
- When approaching a wild animal, slow down and let the animal move away at its own pace.
- Knowing the correct behavior to adopt in the presence of livestock guardian dogs
- Do not share your digital footprint, especially if it is fake!

• JE VÉRIFIE S'IL Y A UNE RÉGLEMENTATION
Certains espaces naturels font l'objet d'une réglementation pour protéger la faune, la flore et limiter la pression de nos usages. Renseignez-vous avant de partir.

• JE LAISSE LES FLEURS DANS LEUR MILIEU NATUREL
Admirez les fleurs sauvages, les photographier, les dessiner, permet de les laisser se développer et grandir dans la nature sans les cueillir. Les fleurs sont les organes reproducteurs des plantes. Cueillir une fleur c'est aussi détruire le cycle.

• JE RESTE SUR LES SENTIERS BALISÉS
Vous limiterez ainsi l'érosion des sols, la destruction de la flore assouplie ainsi que le dérangement sur la faune sauvage.

• JE LAISSE LE CIEL AUX OISEAUX
Les drones sont un dérangement majeur pour la faune, ils génèrent du stress pour les animaux qui les identifient à des prédateurs aériens.

• JE CONTEMPLER LES LACS D'ALTITUDE SANS LES TROUBLER
Fragiles et sensibles à nos crèmes solaires, cosmétiques et autres polluants (comme les savons pour la douche et la vaisselle), résistez à vous jeter à l'eau. En marchant sur les berges (bords de cours d'eau ou de lacs), la flore et la faune sont piétinés. En nageant, l'eau se trouble nuisant à la photosynthèse et aux organismes vivants.

• JE PROFITE DES NUITS ÉTOILÉES, SANS FLAMME NI FUMÉE
Un simple mégot, les braises d'un barbecue ou un feu mal éteint multiplient les risques d'incendies qui dévastent chaque année des milliers d'hectares. Pour limiter le risque et la destruction de la nature, seuls les réchauds sont tolérés.

• JE REPARS AVEC MES DÉCHETS
En montagne, la décomposition des déchets est très lente. Pour éviter cette pollution et le risque d'ingestion d'aliments inadaptés par la faune, remportez tous vos déchets, y compris les restes de fruits (épluchures, trognons) !
Pour vos besoins, les petits « coins » de nature se respectent aussi, éloignez-vous des lacs, zones humides et ramenez le papier toilette usagé.

• JE PARTAGE... OU PAS MES PHOTOS ET LA GÉOLOCALISATION
La protection des espaces naturels se fait aussi de manière digitale. Vos belles images circulent et donnent envie !
Modérez vos partages et gardez précieusement vos souvenirs pour limiter la sur-fréquentation.

• JE LAISSE MON CHIEN À LA MAISON
Quelle que soit leur taille ou un bon dressage, les chiens conservent toujours des réflexes et une odeur de prédateur. Leur présence en espaces protégés perturbe l'écosystème : destruction de couvées, transmission de germes, stress de la faune sauvage... En alpage, par exemple, votre chien représente une menace pour le troupeau et les chiens de protection.
Si votre chien est autorisé, tenez-le en laisse.

• JE BIVOUAQUE « RESPONSABLE »
J'installe ma tente au coucher du soleil jusqu'au lever, dans un espace adapté pour y passer la nuit sans rester plusieurs jours au même endroit. Je laisse le site intact après mon départ.

Consultez <https://bivouac.nature-haute-savoie.fr/> pour tout bivouac dans les réserves naturelles du Massif des Aiguilles Rouges et des Contamines-Montjoie

1 + 1 + ... = 1000 impacts : chaque passage laisse une trace supplémentaire

Don't forget to keep your eyes wide open:

Ibex on the ridges, furtive chamois, alpine flowers... The spectacle is everywhere. But here, you are in their home.

Respect their peace and quiet.

Bib collection

Appointment required (registration in your runner area). To collect your race bib you must come in person with your bib collection card, your race bag containing all the mandatory equipment and your ID.

SECURITY

The 90km Mont-Blanc race is a very technical race!

Narrow, exposed and snowy passages, changing weather (wind, precipitation, heat/cold), night.

To participate in this race, it is recommended to have good experience in mountain running, to be comfortable in all terrains and to be self-sufficient for several hours.

The race takes place within a maximum time of 24 hours.

To be able to enter the starting area, you must have your headlamp switched on.

Registration

It includes: race bib, refreshments during the race and at the finish line a t-shirt (for those who requested it at the time of registration) and a finisher medal.

Runner's gift

No more "finisher" gift: The organizers now provide you with a 100% personalized nutrition plan ahead of the event, tailored to maximize your chances of finishing the race.

To complete the 90km Mont-Blanc race in 24 hours, the average running speed is 3.7 km/h.

Time barriers and maximum race time

The time limits on the 90km Mont-Blanc race are primarily intended to ensure the safety of the runners. Indeed, participants who are unable to pass these time limits within the allotted time are deemed unfit to continue the race.

The various time limits are calculated taking into account the terrain profile (positive and negative elevation gain), as well as the time spent at aid stations, any checkpoints encountered, and any slowdowns that may occur along the course. Any runner stopped at a time limit must follow the instructions of the volunteers and organizers, using public transportation or the shuttle buses provided.

Depending on the location and time of the stop, participants may also be required to spend the night on site. Any refusal to comply with the time limit or any disrespect towards volunteers will result in a lifetime disqualification from the Mont-Blanc Marathon events.

The time limits are calculated based on the official start time of the last wave. The maximum race time, however, is calculated based on the official start time of your wave.

To complete the 23km Mont-Blanc in 6 hours, the average running speed is 3.8 km/h.

SECURITY

The 23km Mont Blanc route follows exclusively hiking trails, some of which are narrow and exposed. Mountain weather can change rapidly.

To participate in this race, it is recommended to have good experience in mountain running, to be comfortable in all terrains and to be self-sufficient for several hours.

Registration

It includes: race bib, refreshments, t-shirt (for those who requested it at the time of registration), finisher medal and cable car descent from Planpraz.

Time barriers and maximum race time

The time limits on the 23km Mont-Blanc race are primarily intended to ensure the safety of the runners. Indeed, participants who are unable to pass these time limits within the allotted time are not fit to continue the race.

The various time limits are calculated taking into account the terrain profile (positive and negative elevation gain) but also the time spent at aid stations, any checkpoints encountered or any slowdowns that may occur throughout the course.

Any runner refusing to comply with the time barrier and not respecting the volunteers in charge of enforcing this regulation will be disqualified for life from the Mont-Blanc Marathon events.

The time barriers are calculated based on the official departure time of the last wave.

Whereas the maximum race time is calculated in relation to the official time of your starting wave.

More info

Open from the Espoir category upwards.

Poles: If you choose to use poles, you must keep them with you for the entire duration of the race. It is forbidden to retrieve poles along the way.

Bib exchange

Anyone caught at the finish line wearing another competitor's bib number will result in the immediate disqualification of the pair and will be banned from registering for future editions.

Bib collection

Appointment required (registration on your runner account). To collect your race bib, each team member must come in person with their race bib collection card, their race bag containing all mandatory equipment, and an ID.

A runner cannot collect his teammate's bib.

SECURITY

The Duo Étoilé route follows exclusively hiking trails, some of which are narrow and exposed. Mountain weather can change rapidly. To participate in this race, it is recommended to have significant mountain running experience, be comfortable on all types of terrain, and be self-sufficient for several hours.

Throughout the entire race, the pair must remain together. If a team is not together at the checkpoints, the lone runner will not be allowed to pass through. They will have to wait for their teammate.

Warning

To be able to enter the starting area, you must have your working headlamp on your head.

Registration

It includes: race bib, refreshments, t-shirt (for those who requested it at the time of registration), finisher medal.

To complete the Star Duo in 6 hours and 30 minutes, the overall average running speed is 3.3 km/h.

Time barriers and maximum race time

The time limits on the Duo Étoilé are primarily intended for the safety of the runners. Indeed, participants who cannot pass these time limits within the allotted time are not fit to continue the race.

The various time limits are calculated taking into account the terrain profile (positive and negative elevation gain) but also the time spent at aid stations, any checkpoints encountered or any slowdowns that may occur throughout the course.

Any runner refusing to comply with the time barrier and not respecting the volunteers in charge of enforcing this regulation will be disqualified for life from the Mont-Blanc Marathon events.

! Runners who are outside the time limit at the Plan refuge will not be able to continue the course, they will have to sleep there.

Bib collection

Appointment required (registration in your runner area). To collect your race bib you must come in person with your race bib collection card, your race bag containing all the mandatory equipment and your ID.

SECURITY

The 42km Mont Blanc route follows exclusively hiking trails, some of which are narrow and exposed. Mountain weather conditions can change rapidly (wind, precipitation, heat/cold).

To participate in this race, it is recommended to have good experience in mountain running, to be comfortable in all terrains and to be self-sufficient for several hours.

Assistance during the race is permitted 100m before or 100m after an aid station.
It is prohibited outside of these areas.

Registration

It includes: race bib, refreshments, t-shirt (for those who requested it at the time of registration), finisher medal.

To complete the 42km Mont-Blanc in 10 hours, the overall average running speed is 4.2 km/h.

Time barriers and maximum race time

The time limits on the 42km race are primarily for the safety of the runners. Indeed, participants who cannot pass these time limits within the allotted time are not fit to continue the race.

The various time limits are calculated taking into account the terrain profile (positive and negative elevation gain) but also the time spent at aid stations, any checkpoints encountered or any slowdowns that may occur throughout the course.

Any runner refusing to comply with the time barrier and not respecting the volunteers in charge of enforcing this regulation will be disqualified for life from the Mont-Blanc Marathon events.

The time limits are calculated based on the official start time of the last wave. The maximum race time, however, is calculated based on the official start time of your wave.
